

It's likely a scam. While there are some government-funded solar programs for households that qualify, "going solar" isn't free. Honest businesses will tell you exactly how much it'll ...

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

Genuine incentive programs and reputable solar energy contractors do exist. Before you accept an unsolicited offer, do some research on solar companies in your area.

Browse and view scams details reported to the BBB. Examine and share scams with others to help protect you from existing schemes.

As solar energy continues to gain popularity, the risk of encountering solar lease scams increases. However, understanding the common types of scams, recognizing the warning signs, and ...

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of them may offer to install a solar panel or solar roof in your home for a small cost or even for free. It's an intentionally misleading...

No information about the cost to remove or transfer solar panels, which could lead you to believe you have future options that might not be available or affordable

Avoid common solar lease scams with this guide for landowners. Learn how to spot red flags, verify solar companies, and protect your land lease rights.

From fake companies to misleading offers, these scams can cost unsuspecting individuals thousands of dollars. In this blog, we'll break down the most common solar scams and ...

How the scam works: People posing as solar installers or utility employees call or come to your home and offer free solar panels through made-up government programs or incentives. ...

Web: <https://www.inalaaccelerator.co.za>